

Yorkshire Outdoors gains prestigious training accreditation

Yorkshire outdoors are delighted to announce the we have been accredited by Lantra as one of their key providers of 4x4, quad & ATV trainers. Set within over 50 acres of extreme off road course we are now able to train people to cope with most situations that may arise while off road.

Offering training for both the novice up to the more experienced ensuring the drive / rider has all the knowledge and experience so reacting to any situation in arduous terrain that might arise becomes second nature .

With employers also have a responsibility to ensure any staff operating off road equipment are suitably trained to operate the machinery their employees use its important that they choose the correct training provider who like us here at Yorkshire Outdoors offer an industry leading accredited course through Lantra
